HOUSE AT 'FRISCO

Blows a Steamer Adrift Which Bumps Tellus and Almost Sinks.

San Francisco, March 3.—(Special)—The severe gale which prevailed last night and this morning did considerable damage along the water front. The river steamer Juliette, lying at Harrison street, was jostled by the gale until her heavy lines parted. She drifted around and struck the North-West corner of the building. The Juliette pounded against the big iron vessel, became entangled in the latter's rigging, and at one time she creased to such an extent that she nearly turned turtle. The Juliette's upper works were carried away and she sank to the level of the dock. The crew worked hard until the water put out the engines. On March 3, the Juliette was only averted by the coolness of the captain and men. The Tellus was uninjured. While attempting to repair a rope on the transport Lawton as she was entering the harbor an Able seaman was swept overboard and drowned. Many fishing boats along the wharf were injured and two launches drifted away and were not recovered.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE.

Good Record for the Month Just Closed—The Statistics.

The attendance at the public schools during February was, on the whole, quite normal in respect to total number present and regularity of attendance, though the prevalence of mumps in some sections of the city lowered the average in a few of the classes. The record of the Victoria West school was, however, exceptionally good; every division is credited with a percentage of over 90 and the school as a whole with virtually 95 per cent. in respect to regularity. The divisions which reached 95 per cent. in regularity were:

Boys' Central—Div. III, 96.6 per cent.; Div. VI, 95.5.
North Ward—Div. I, 95.
South Park—Div. I, 95.6
Victoria West—Div. III, 97; Div. IV, 95.5; Div. V, 97.1.
Rock Bay—Div. I, 96.7.
The divisions in which 60 per cent. of the pupils attended without missing a single session were:
High School—Div. VI and VIII.
Boys' Central—Div. I, III, V and VI.
Girls' Central—Div. I, VI and IX.
North Ward—Div. I and X.
South Park—Div. I, III and VI.
Victoria West—Div. I, III and V.
Spring Ridge—Div. I, II and III.
Hillside—Div. I and II.
Rock Bay—Div. I.
Of these, the third division of Victoria West and the first division of Rock Bay had each of them 75 per cent. without a single absence during the month. Following is the abstract of the returns for all the schools:

	Number present during month	Average daily attendance	Percentage

IF YOU FEAR DIPHTHERIA, BEWARE OF A COLD.

The best authorities now agree that the chances for contracting diphtheria are greatly enhanced by colds. If the child has a cold it is much more likely to contract diphtheria. The same is true of any of the much dreaded catching diseases. The cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the germs of these diseases; that is why one child will contract a disease, and another exposed at the same time will not take it. The one that takes it, as a rule, has a cold. Even slight colds are dangerous, and should have prompt and intelligent attention. Whether for a child or an adult you will find no better preparation than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It can always be depended upon to effect a quick cure. There is no danger in giving it to children, as it contains no harmful drug.

CUTTING ADRIFT FROM THE EMPIRE

A week ago last Sunday we called attention to indications in the policy of the Liberal party which tend to weaken the ties between Canada and the Mother Country. This is not election clap-trap. It is a real danger which exists—a danger in the estimation of those who look to the closer identification of material and political interests throughout the Empire. It is a question which has often engaged the attention of the Colonist. It has strong convictions on the subject.

This is essentially a British community. The character of the people, the geographical and military position, the traditions which have been nurtured, the terminal advantages as a point to which converge and from which diverge lines of Imperial trade and commerce, the very genius of our institutions, material, social and political—all point in one direction, to the goal of a common Imperial destiny. We who live on the sea are used to look to the possibilities which lie beyond the ocean's horizon. We would long ago have been aroused to the danger which lurks in that policy to which we have referred, were it not for the insidious manner in which it has been developed and is being developed.

We assert that the trend of Laurierism is towards independence as a goal, and with independence must come the inevitable consolidation of American interests on this continent. As soon as we cast the sheet anchor that ties us to the Empire adrift we are driven by the tide into the harbor of Americanism, to take shelter, as Sir Frederick Borden in a moment of candor intimated, under the protection of the Monroe doctrine. We do not say that a man is necessarily disloyal to his country, who believes in independence; we do not say that a man has not the right to advocate independence as an ultimate destiny for this country; but the rest of the people have the right to know that that is his position, and that right becomes a national one when the man who believes in independence happens to be the man who directs the policy of the nation for the time.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is a master hand in the craft of statesmanship. We have never for a moment attempted to minimize the genius he possesses, which, in point of ability, places him alongside of the other great Canadian leader, Sir John A. Macdonald, though with an entirely different set of ideals to govern him. It is his ideals and his policy of insidiously substituting them in the Canadian mind in the place of those of the old leaders, that we have to deal with. In the hands of Sir Wilfrid Laurier such men as Hon. Sidney Fisher and Sir Frederick Borden are mere puppets—clay in the hands of the potter. Incidentally, we may remark that Sir Wilfrid never wanted Mr. Templeman in his cabinet, because he is not even good clay. The western man Sir Wilfrid wants, if he ever finds him, is some one who could mould public opinion in his way of thinking. He wants more than a cabinet minister with a portfolio and just enough force to draw a salary. He wants a man who has greater claims for recognition than that he has always stayed with his party, in adversity as in prosperity, even though it required greater fortitude for an honest man to remain with it in the latter than in the former condition.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has never favored union with the Empire in any degree. He was opposed to confederation, and for years afterwards was an open advocate of Canadian independence which in Quebec today is the acknowledged attitude of nine-tenths of the leading politicians. Since Sir Wilfrid Laurier came into power he has steadily, and persistently kept that idea in view. He is directing the ship of state skillfully and adroitly thither under a flag boasting of loyalty and friendship to Great Britain; if he lives a few years longer he will have her safely docketed where he wants her.

Let no one be mistaken. There is not a single act of Sir Wilfrid Laurier since his accession to power which has tended to cement closer Canadian and British interests. It is true that he gave Great Britain a trade preference; but, mark you, it was made a free gift, and unconditionally, so as to place Canada under no obligation or contract to continue it. Under cover of the kudos for loyalty this act gave him, he went on developing his real policy. With a fine Italian cleverness which has characterized all his public acts—a conspicuous instance of which was his turning the Manitoba school question to his advantage, while, as shown in the Northwest autonomy measures, he strongly favored the principle he apparently condemned, but never did condemn in explicit terms—by effusive and almost grandiloquent displays of loyalty to Great Britain, he is framing a constitution of Canadian independence, which means something else in the end.

Don't let our readers misapprehend us. Sir Wilfrid Laurier nor the real nationalist party at his back do not favor annexation. Far from it. They are more opposed to it than the Tories of the English-speaking Tories; but the forces that tend in that direction, and have always tended—but more now than ever—if we cut our British moorings, would be beyond their control, like the fire in a forest or the waters in a mighty dam.

We have on previous occasions indicated the mileposts in Sir Wilfrid's national policy—another than Sir John's—the events which are now beginning to crowd uncomfortably upon us a bit. What are they?

1. Sir Wilfrid's refusal to contribute to Imperial defence as other colonies have done. Deny it who may, that was the real and absolute cause of the withdrawal of the British naval and other forces from Esquimalt and Halifax. Had Canada contributed the small quota asked, the maintenance and strengthening of our naval defences would have been one of the conditions of the arrangement.

2. Under the terms of union between British Columbia and the Dominion, the Ottawa authorities were to have used their "influence" with the Imperial authorities to retain His Majesty's forces at Esquimalt forever. That solemn compact has been broken. Not a finger was raised to retain what now represents a loss of $1,000,000 a year to Victoria.

3. The dismissal of Lord Dunsford as commander of the Canadian forces was the severing of the link binding the Imperial and Canadian systems of defence. The militia was reorganized under purely local control and advice. Lord Dunsford was retained in the service just long enough to enable him to develop a policy and plans of military defence for Canada, which Sir Frederick Borden calmly appropriated and put into effect.

4. The decision to develop, at great expense, a system of purely Canadian military and naval defence was in anticipation of the time when we will be ready for complete independence.

5. When the result of the Alaska boundary question was announced, Sir Wilfrid, from his place in the House, declared in favor of Canada making her own treaties. The treaty-making power is the essence of independence, and involves the responsibility of enforcing and defending them as well. What chance would Canada have against the United States in a war without the aid of Great Britain?

6. Hon. Sidney Fisher's remarkable declaration at Montreal against a preferential tariff in favor of the Canadian farmer, notwithstanding that every farmers' association in Canada, including the Northwest, is committed to it by resolution.

7. Sir Frederick Borden's still more remarkable speech at Ottawa in which he enunciated that Canada did not require to contribute to Imperial defence, as on this continent she was safe under the operations of the Monroe doctrine.

8. Sir Wilfrid's own most recent announcement of policy in Toronto of each part of the Empire looking after its own interests in its own way. The exact words are given elsewhere; but his most suggestive statement was in an address to "varsity students in that city.

And do not let us forget that when Mr. Templeman in 1891 wrote those burning words about the impervious nature of the average voter's skull, and his tendency to be herded by the "vaqueros" of politics and guided by bunco-steerers, he had just completed a hard-fought campaign over the merits of unrestricted reciprocity, of which he was an ardent advocate. If ever a campaign should again occur in Victoria in which these or similar issues should arise—issues which affect the deeply seated sentiments of the community in favor of British connection—he, or any other candidate will find it just as difficult to steer the average voter into the rocks of independence as it was in the direction of American control in 1891.

We warn the public of Victoria, Liberal as well as Conservative, of the trend of the policy now pursued at Ottawa, and if Liberals should remain in power for ten years longer, this article will be quoted as evidence that not only was our index finger pointed right, but that we failed in our duty in not sounding the alarm louder and oftener that.

WE ARE ON THE ROAD TO WASHINGTON!

WHY THE BATTLE IS WAGED

No elector should run away with the idea that Mr. Templeman has been opposed in this election for the sake of opposition. On the contrary, those who placed Mr. Beckwith in the field against him, did so because they felt that in acknowledging the compliment to British Columbia of a portfolio they were condoning offences, both on the part of Mr. Templeman's leadership in this province and of the Liberal government of Canada, that would be almost criminal to overlook. If a large element of the Liberal party in Victoria were in revolt against Mr. Templeman and Mr. Riley, how could Conservatives as a party be expected to stomach their record? Why is Mr. George Riley not in Victoria today helping his friend in this contest? Because his presence in this contest would not have been tolerated by the dissentient Liberals. How, then, could Conservatives afford to be silent?

Cutting out of the count everything that happened before last general election, which may have been said to have been absolved by the electors, what was the result of this absolution obtained under promise of a railway? Has it not been to make matters far worse? Have not the local marauders on the federal treasury been emboldened to a degree of absolute shamelessness. If we illustrate by metaphor. Before 1904 it was plunder under cover of darkness; now it is highway robbery in broad daylight. If bribed by a portfolio, we again absolve the local leaders by the return of Mr. Templeman, shall we not still further emphasize their right of spoliation of office? Shall we not as citizens accept our full share of the responsibility for a condition of affairs which we all heartily condemn? Is there to be no end to it?

In order to make good strong statements like these, let us review briefly some of the things on account of which we have nailed Mr. Templeman to the cross, where he must remain on these particular charges. Nor will his election, if successful, release him.

In the Grand Trunk Pacific, with which we have already dealt repeatedly, there was a direct and absolute revocation of all promises and pledges. To blacken the original offence, he is now forswearing that there were even promises. Upon that fact alone Mr. Templeman is unworthy of continued confidence. His word in public matters can no longer be accepted. Nothing from Ottawa respecting this province, in fact, is of face value unless in black and white, stamped with the legislative authority of parliament. Even that, as instanced in the disregard of the terms of union with respect to the fleet at Esquimalt, is not always inviolate. Mr. Templeman does not seem capable of realizing the gravity of breaking faith with the people.

Then we have the aids to navigation, which we had the positive and repeated assurances of Hon. Mr. Prefontaine would be provided. Representations after representations have gone to Ottawa, warning after warning by loss of life on our coast has been given—all without avail. It was not until two or three appalling disasters, closely following each other, took place that we have had any indication of action being taken. We have promises for the future. We have had promises enough, if each was a gold brick, to pave the streets of Victoria.

The most egregious example of the system of graft now in vogue is the Salvor. Need we dwell on it? Ten thousand dollars a year to a private firm as a reward for political services, past, present and prospective—a subsidy for saving hulls, copper, old iron, engines and boilers. Not a dollar to save lives, not even "incidentally," as the contract shows. The system which evolved the Salvor is responsible for the loss of 117 lives on board the steamer Valencia—a system of neglect of the requirements dictated by humanity, and the substitution of the demands of the pocket. When the Salvor was sent to the scene of the wreck it was a mission of hopelessness, known in advance, and it prevented more effective measures being taken. It carried with it a terrible responsibility, because it is the logical result of a deal that was not consummated in political righteousness, and must be visited on the politicians who hatched it and permitted it and sanctioned it. Its grievous and disastrous consequences are not to be attributed to Providence, to the Evil One or to Fate, but to a certain set of politicians in Victoria—individually and collectively.

Over $45,000 has been spent in repairs to the Quadra during the past few years, and since 1901 some $15,000 or more per annum, as shown by the auditor-general's report, is chargeable to her. These repairs have been farmed out as political favors, without competition, at outrageous prices.

Liquor permits in the Yukon have been trafficked in. Business men have been whipped into line by the share of the plunder which is possible by bowing at the shrine of Templeman.

Persistent efforts have been made to block the way to a free port in Victoria, because it is in the way of a distribution of a certain amount of patronage which the local pilotage board can control.

The quarantine station at William Head is a political feeding ground for a large section of Mr. Ralph Smith's constituency, for which see the details published in the auditor-general's report. It is infested with the paid proteges of the member for Nanaimo.

Civil servants in the employ of the Dominion government are openly active in canvassing and working for Mr. Templeman.

In addition to all these things, of local concern mainly, we find Mr. Templeman resisting the demands of the provincial government for better terms, on the grounds that to secure these, the people must surrender to him and his party the sacred right of selecting provincial rulers according to their own choice, and accept the Liberal nomination of Mr. J. A. Macdonald as premier and leader of the legislative assembly.

We find him, as expressed by Sir Charles Tupper, assisting in robbing our sister provinces of the full meed of self-government in local concerns which we enjoy, notwithstanding that he made the stand in 1896 against the principle which in 1905, under the whip of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, he endorsed by his vote.

Are the Conservatives to be condemned for setting aside the empty honor of a portfolio, rather than endorse Mr. Templeman's record?

CONSERVATIVES CANNOT LOSE.

It is impossible for the Conservative party of Victoria to lose in the present campaign. Should their candidate be defeated they cannot be said to have lost—in the sense that in performing an obvious duty no man or party can be said to have lost.

The Liberal-Conservative party of Victoria protested against the ill-treatment of the West by the Liberal government; against the Grand Trunk Pacific deception; against the outrage perpetrated on the people of the newly-created provinces in the Northwest; against the criminal neglect shown in neglecting aids to navigation; against the system of graft inaugurated by the Liberals from one end of Canada to the other.

In thus protesting the Liberal-Conservative party of Victoria has been true to itself and true to the Liberal-Conservative party of Canada. Is there a loyal Conservative in Canada who would declare that such a protest should not be entered when opportunity offered?

Already much has been accomplished, much attained. Had there been no contest public attention would not have been aroused to the grievances which exist, to the wrongs to be righted, to the principles at stake. There would have been no promises, at least of things to come in the line of our requirements. A thunderstorm clears the air, and if the public have nothing else to thank the Conservatives for, if no other result is achieved, the political atmosphere will have been somewhat purified, and the fear of the Lord, in politics, will have been put in the hearts of some persons, where it has been conspicuously absent in the past. There will be some house-cleaning in the Liberal abode, and the Conservative party will, while losing some of its doubtful timber, be cemented and strengthened as it never was before. It will be a useful brake on Liberal iniquity while it lasts, and will have taught lessons for future contests.

It will have been demonstrated that a vigorous, effective campaign can be waged without the lavish expenditure of money to a retinue of camp-followers who work on the side with the most spoils to disperse.

The Liberal-Conservatives of Victoria cannot lose in the present contest—they have already scored a victory.

FIXING THE RESPONSIBILITY.

Let it be said that Hon. William Templeman is not responsible for the sins committed in the name of his party—for the sins of George Riley and Ralph Smith—it must be remembered that during the last election campaign he took occasion to state his position explicitly and beyond question that he had a full voice in the cabinet, that all matters affecting British Columbia were referred to him and nothing was done without his voice and sanction. He was adviser-in-chief in the Laurier government on British Columbia.

Will Mr. Templeman undertake to deny this responsibility?

ELECTION "ROORBACKS."

We ask the electors to beware of "roorbacks" on the eve or day of election from whatever source. The Colonist and the Conservative campaign committee have conducted a hard but clean contest. Nothing of an anonymous character, calculated to do the opposite side an injury untruthfully, has emanated or will emanate from them directly or indirectly. The issuing of dodgers, such as were circulated at the temperance meeting last week with reference to Mr. Templeman's ownership of the Bee Hive saloon, is the kind of thing that has long ceased to be recognized as among legitimate political methods. It is a species of smartness that recoils on the side whose cause it is intended to benefit.

The people believe in fair play and condemn underhanded and irresponsible attacks on person or character. Any Conservative to whom can be traced attempts of the character indicated should be promptly repudiated and read out of the party. He is an enemy in disguise. We ought to endeavor to place the Conservative party upon a basis in the future that it will attract by its example and precept the best elements of the community—we mean the fair-minded, manly and politically clean elements. If in the past there were corrupt and politically evil influences in the party, it has suffered for its sins.

We believe in "playing the game." Playing the game means playing fair. We have a party in power at Ottawa that has, while adopting the policy of the Conservative party, adopted all their faults as well and accentuated them in a tenfold degree. Fielding, for instance, admits the gentle accusation of having stolen the Conservative policy, but says the Liberals have improved on it. This, if true, may be accepted all along the line. If the Tories while in office were bad, the Liberals have demonstrated their genius in reducing the Tory wickedness to an exact science. Graft permeates the entire political system to such an extent that respectable men have now to apologize for entering politics. He is immediately tainted with suspicion.

So we say that in order that Conservatives may regain the confidence of the public they must keep their own skirts clean. To appeal to the better feeling which exists in every man in the community, politicians must themselves set the example in small as well as large things.

BETTER TERMS.

(From Sunday's Colonist.)

The question of Better Terms has not been made a feature of this campaign, except to a limited extent, not because it is not an issue, but because it is a question that demands consideration at a time when the whole subject is being dealt with at Ottawa. It is an issue as between the Province and the Dominion, and involves treatment that cannot be well taken up during a by-election.

We refer to it now in order to call attention to the remarkable, though characteristic, attitude taken towards it by Mr. Templeman. In extracts from his public speeches and from the Times, published in another column, it is shown that he uses it as a threat to the people of the province that they cannot expect to get their admitted rights until a government is in power across James Bay which is in political accord with the administration at Ottawa. There never was a more high-handed and unconstitutional attempt made in any country to coerce a free people into submission to the dictates of political bosses.

THE NIGHT BEFORE BOSWORTH.

The modern Richard soliloquizes: Methinks the ghosts of all those promises I made Flit about my head, and murmur Tomorrow's vengeance on the head of William. I am a "dead one," and yet I'm not; Fool, of thyself speak true; Fool, do not flatter. My conscience has a thousand several tongues, And every tongue condemns me for "a dead one." I will despair and die. Yes, no; William is William—That is, I am I. W. T.

Now for the "rodeo."

Beware of "bunco steerers."

The lifeboat may not arrive in time to save Hon. William Templeman.

If Mr. Templeman should be elected tomorrow he will go back to Ottawa a much mutilated man.

Logically, Mr. Templeman in this contest has not a leg to stand upon. From the standpoint of considerations which are not logical he is a perfect centipede.

Did Mr. Riley resign in favor of Hon. William Templeman in the goodness of his heart? No; his reward depends upon how far public opinion is to be dared—after the election.

Answers to Correspondents.—No, Constant Reader, it was not before; it was after an election that Hon. Mr. Templeman's organ called the voters thick-headed and referred to them as cattle rounded up by a "vaquero."

STAGE AMUSEMENTS

GADSKI

For the coming week two good attractions are offered at the Victoria for local theatregoers; Pauline Hall in Dorcas; and a concert by Madame Galski, the Pringle company will offer "Uncle Josh," a rural comedy, and a good bill is offered at the vaudeville theatre, the Grand on Johnson street; at the Savoy, the stage is dark and the old order changeth, for a staff of workmen are engaged in remodelling the theatre which will be rebuilt into a family vaudeville theatre under the name and style of the Imperial. Last week the attraction of the week was "Woodland," a clever comic opera; the other performance "Her Double Life," by Laura Frankfield and company, was of the cheap stock company order, and few were willing to pay a dollar to see it. Others could not be blamed for their unwillingness.

Pauline Hall, who will appear in "Dorcas," a musical comedy by the authors of "Ermine," Harry and Edward Paulton. It was in Ermine that Pauline Hall achieved one of the greatest successes in the history of the comic opera stage. Yet in "Dorcas" she is now believed to have hit upon the triumph of her life. This was not only the consensus of New York's critical opinion, but has been confirmed by equally reliable dramatic authorities in the cities so far visited by Miss Hall on her present tour. The new opera is said to possess all of the delicate charm of Miss Hall's former success. It tells a delightfully interesting love story; its comedy is quaintly north-provoking and its dashing music is of the tuneful catchers sort which may be best described as "whistleable."

"Dorcas" is in three acts and has been most lavishly mounted, the three massive settings used representing the very acme of the scenic artist's skill. The costumes are said to be superlatively beautiful, giving a wealth of color to the ensembles. Miss Hall is surrounded by a notable cast, her managers, Nelson Roberts and Frank B. Arnold having shown the same prodigality in the salary list they displayed in the mounting of the opera. Those who keep in touch with such matters will recognize the comic opera talent in the following list of principals: Josephine Knapp, Jennie Weatherly, May Bouton, Ethel Comstock, Mamie Scott, Lanthé Willis, Jenny Bartlett, Geoffrey Stein, Charles Enlton, John E. Young, Lyman White.

What Sulphur Does

For the Human Body in Health and Disease.

The mention of sulphur will recall to many of us the early days when our parents used to tell us that sulphur and molasses every spring and fall. It was the universal spring and fall "blood purifier," tonic and cure-all, and, mind you, this old-fashioned remedy was not without merit.

The idea was good, but the remedy was crude and unpalatable, and a large quantity had to be taken to get any effect.

Nowadays we get all the beneficial effects of sulphur in a palatable, concentrated form, so that a single grain is far more effective than a tablespoonful of the crude sulphur.

The recent research and experiment have proven that the best sulphur for medicinal use is that obtained from Calcium (Calcium Sulphide) and sold in drug stores under the name of Stuart's Calcium Wafers. They are small chocolate-colored pellets and contain the active medicinal principles of sulphur in a highly concentrated, effective form.

Few people are aware of the value of this form of sulphur in restoring and maintaining bodily vigor and health; sulphur acts directly on the liver, and excretory organs and purifies and enriches the blood by the prompt elimination of waste material.

Our grandmothers knew this when they doctored us with sulphur and molasses every spring and fall, but the crudity and injury of ordinary flowers of sulphur were often worse than the disease, and cannot compare with the modern concentrated preparations of sulphur of which Stuart's Calcium Wafers are undoubtedly the best and most widely used.

They are the natural antidote for liver and kidney troubles and cure constipation and purify the blood in a way that often surprises patient and physician alike.

Dr. R. M. Wilkins while experimenting with sulphur remedies soon found that the sulphur from Calcium was superior to any other form. He says: "For liver, kidney and blood troubles, especially when resulting from constipation or making, I have been surprised at the results obtained from Stuart's Calcium Wafers. In patients suffering from boils and pimples and even deep-seated eruptions, yet I know of nothing so safe and reliable for constipation, liver and kidney troubles and especially in all forms of skin diseases as this remedy."

At any rate people who are tired of buncies I have repeatedly seen them dry up and disappear in four or five days, leaving the skin clear and smooth. Although Stuart's Calcium Wafers is a proprietary article and sold by druggists and for that reason lauded by many physicians, I have heard of some "purifiers" will find in Stuart's Calcium Wafers, a far safer, more palatable and effective preparation.

THE DISTINGUISHED PRIMA DONNA, PAULINE HALL.

Robert Burton, George Hall and J. P. Donnelly.

Madame Johanna Galski is booked for next Saturday night at the Victoria theatre and music-lovers are taking much interest in her approaching concert—a fact not at all surprising considering the position which the famous soprano occupies in the world of music. There probably is no prima donna singer today whose voice has the strength, purity and youth of Madame Galski's; indeed, it may safely be said that her acknowledged place is first among the few great artists who are this year touring the country in concert.

It is as a Wagnerian singer that Galski is best known, probably because of the phenomenal successes which she scored on her first appearance in this country in the important role of that great master.

For several seasons at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York, she has been the star of the season, and the many great ones gathered together under the direction of Mr. Conried, and there was keen disappointment when announcement was made that the diva had decided to forsake opera for the concert stage. Mr. Conried's forces could scarcely have sustained a greater loss, but the gain to music lovers throughout the country to whom the opportunity of enjoying opera comes but rarely, was correspondingly great. Her initial tour—like that of this season—was under the direction of London G. Clark, first being featured with the Pittsburgh Orchestra, under the leadership of the famous Emil Paur, and then singing alone in concert, going as far west as the Pacific Coast. So great was the demand for her return that the venture is being repeated on a more extensive scale this year, for upwards of seventy appearances are called for in this season's contract.

Madame Galski's programmes are made up mainly of airs from the operas with which her name is associated; while songs and lieder of a lighter nature which she sings so charmingly form an important feature.

The Pringle Stock company will begin the third week of their engagement at the Watson theatre, tomorrow evening in the rural comedy-drama "Uncle Josh."

Johnnie Pringle, the irresistible comedian will be seen in the title role, that of the old New England farmer who visits Boston and encounters many amusing adventures. As a special feature of this performance, each and every member of the company will do some kind of a specialty either singing, dancing or reciting.

Mr. Pringle has decided to change the programme three times weekly in the future commencing this coming week. For Wednesday matinee and night and Thursday night, they will present the big double bill "The Littlest Girl," a sentimental drama by Richard Harding Davis, in one act; and the three act farce-comedy "Wanted—A Wife." On Friday night and Saturday matinee and night, they will give a stupendous production of the thrilling drama of western life "Forgiveness."

Miss Lansing Rowan, will be seen to advantage in each of these three plays.

Paul Gilmour who played "The Mummy and the Humming Bird" last season is to be seen at the Victoria theatre on the 15th.

The breezy "comic operatic cock-tail," "Piff Paff Puff" is to be produced at the Victoria theatre on the 19th.

Manager Ricketts of the Victoria Theatre has received a number of copies of the words and music of "Take It Home and Give It to the Baby," one of the big songs hit of cess or failure of a play, the building of any scene to carry it is a fundamental error. Where, however, one may agree with Mr. Hughes is in his choice of subject, his endeavor to get at the life and problems of New York as they are, and his desire to hit at the sordid ideals that obsess even people of more or less temperament.

"The Triangle" is the old, old story of the woman who married for ambition and then found that the man that she had chosen was not the man after her heart. The real man, of course, is deviated from the old theme is in the fact that the lover after declaring his love goes away and leaves the woman not far off. Where Mr. Hughes has with her husband. She declares that hereafter she will endeavor "to be square" and really means it, but the husband, worth over the fact that he is the laughing stock of New York, whips himself into a passion and kills her.

The play was uneven in construction, but witty in dialogue. The trouble was mainly in the fact that both in the acting and in the tempo at which it was taken many of the lines failed to get across the footlights. The first two acts contained a lot of extraneous matter that might just as well have been eliminated and that lessened rather than heightened the effect of the third act where the husband confronts his wife and her lover and is too weak to carry out his original resolution of murder.

A novel bit of business in the fourth act was rather spoiled by the fact that the stage manager insisted on serving almost an entire dinner before the action, which had become somewhat exciting in the previous act, was continued.

For a play depicting "the smart set" of New York one might have wished that actors more acquainted with those mysterious persons had been obtained.

GRACE FILKINS OF THE "GARDEN" THEATRE CO.

Miss Charlotte Walker first entrance was singularly unimpressive as a member of that fraternity, and Mr. Gottchalk, who seemed to have gotten rid of the many disagreeable mannerisms that usually mar his performance. His acting throughout was little less than superb, and had the rest of the company been up to his standard one's impression of Mr. Hughes' play would have been more definite and decidedly more favorable.

Without regard to the ultimate suc-

The Value of Charcoal

Few People Know How Useful It Is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better. It is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh. All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stewart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in a tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician in speaking of the benefits of charcoal says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of all them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

A POSSIBILITY

That Became a Fact and Pleases Many People.

A. R. Lewis, M. D., in a lengthy article in the columns of the American Journal of Health, says concerning hair: "It's deterioration is a constant source of worry to humanity, consequently bald people are readily deceived by 'fake' hair restoratives. The wish that hair preparation will 'fill the bill' is father to the fancy that it is easy to do so. A rare case in point is that of Newbro's Herpicide, which actually does 'fill the bill.' It destroys the parasite that attacks the hair root, and prevents dandruff, falling hair and baldness." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

CARIBOO ARE FOUND ON GRAHAME ISLAND

Officers of H. M. S. Shearwater Find Indisputable Signs of the Animals.

FOUND AT NORTHWEST CORNER ONLY

Another Victim of Lost Valencia Is Washed Ashore—Revolution
in Ecuador.

H. M. S. Shearwater is returning from her cruise to the Queen Charlotte group.
She reached Comox a few days ago, and with her coming an interesting fact is learned with regard to the presence of caribou on the Queen Charlotte Islands.
"A. T. H." writing to the Colonist from Comox, says: "It is now certain that caribou exist on Graham Island. The Shearwater recently spent five days in Na-den harbor, and undoubtedly caribou tracks were found about an hour's march to the westward. A lot of open country was discovered to the northwest, full of signs of both old and young, and though no animals were actually seen, a shed antler was picked up. It seems to be generally understood by the natives that the caribou are only to be found on the northwest corner of Graham Island, and this would account for their being unknown to the settlers."

TELLS OF REVOLUTION.

Heartrending Scenes Witnessed in Ecuador by Officers of the Mera.

Steamer Mera of the Kosmos line, which has reached the Sound from Hamburg via South American ports, brought news of the Ecuador revolution. While in Manta, Ecuador, the people on the Mera saw 500 revolutionists marched to a transport and loaded aboard. They were taken to Guayaquil, where many of them were shot and the remainder sent to prison. Chief Officer N. Von Elben stated that the way in which the revolutionists were treated was revolting.

"They were tied together in bunches of four," said he. "Heavy rope was used in place of chains. The poor devils were mostly barefooted and in rags. Many were so weak they could hardly walk. Soldiers with guns clubbed and forced them along. When a man fell he was beaten until he arose. They had marched from the interior in this condition. It was an extremely hot day. All we could do was to lie in hammocks and pant. But these poor fellows, bareheaded and barefooted, were compelled to march through the broil-ing sun.

"We learned that scarcely any food had been given them and practically no water.
It was a heart-breaking sight to see the women and children following after the long line of dust-covered prisoners. Their faces were drawn, and the women, who the revolutionists were being driven back from their fathers and husbands with the butts of guns.

"The people in Manta were panic-stricken. We were unable to get men to dis-board the cargo, and for that reason the port. After lying there for two days we had to leave and discharge the freight in the next port. We heard that the fighting inland had been going on for weeks, and the revolutionists were being shown no mercy. From the manner in which the ones we saw were treated I believe the statement."

VALENCIA VICTIMS.

Yesterday morning the sea gave up another victim of the Valencia wreck after tossing it about the waters for over five weeks. The special correspondent of the Colonist at Valparaiso, writing yesterday morning, says: "The body of Abraham Handgref, a second class passenger of the lost Valencia was found and buried yesterday on the west end of Wrecker Bay. A lifeline was on over an overcoat, but the pant was gone. On the body was found a silver watch, a gold ring on a finger, and some letters. In a foreign language, all sized Sam Kity, but no money. The de-flection was through the finding on the body of intention papers for citizenship on the United States. The body was badly decomposed.

On the steamer Queen City on her arrival from the West Coast was the body of V. M. Crane, one of the stewards of the Valencia, whose body was found on Long Beach and buried there by the officers of the United States revenue cutter Grant, who marked the grave with a wooden cross. W. M. Crane, brother of the unfortunate man, was a passenger by the Queen City, bringing with him the body of his brother, which was exhumed, and will be taken to San Francisco for interment.

MARINE NOTES.

ing coal from British Columbia to San ing a couple of trips on the coast with coal.

VICTORIA MUSICAL SOCIETY.

Concert to Be Given by Madame Gadski Creating Much Interest.

The concert to be given by Mme.
Gadski is creating considerable interest in the musical circles of Victoria, and there is every indication that a large and fashionable audience will welcome the noted singer at the Victoria theatre on Saturday evening next.

The concert will be under the auspices of the Victoria Musical society, and the seat plan will be open exclusively to members of the society on Tuesday and Wednesday next.

The programme will shortly be published, and will be found to be sufficiently varied as to suit all musical tastes.

The founders of the musical society are very much gratified by the manner in which the project is being received by the music lovers of Victoria. Subscriptions and donations ranging from $1 to $50 have been received by the secretary, and testify in a marked manner the widespread interest in the movement.
Negotiations are already under way for the season of 1906-7, and the committee is confident of being able to present to the members a programme such as never before has been attempted in Victoria, and one which will fully justify the society's existence.

Members of the society are invited to co-operate with the committee in making known the objects and scope of the society. Those who have friends residing along the Esquimalt & Nanaimo railway are requested to make known the company's offer to grant return tickets for single fares to members and their friends attending the society's concerts.
Additional copies of the circular letter issued by the society may be obtained from the secretary.
